

Legion

I know I have a mind, but you can't put it into a jar. And although you could put my heart into one, that's not really my heart. My muscles help me walk and talk and carry the burden but that's not where my strength is. And you've not seen my soul, or anyone else's for that matter, but you just might touch it. If you're nice. When I'm gone, I will remain. That's my spirit. I am more than a body and flesh and blood. I am a miracle.

We all are.

- Dale Hardy